from the usual contracts i would say it's these categories:

1. live performance
2. recording, storage and reproduction via storage media
3. public playing
4. use in other art forms (e.g., audiovisual production)
5. radio broadcasting
6. TV broadcasting
7. movie screening
8. online use
9. use in advertising

is there any harm in providing all from the start? if not, that's it.

Depends on the way it's communicated, but I am sure, there are right formulations for that. Let's start with this. We will have feedback from "real" artists as soon as we enter the testing phase.

The category list is a multi selection without dependancies between the categories, right?
