We need to re-think this:

The copyright collecting society makes only sense as a property of a solo artist and shouldn't be arbitrarily changed on contribution level. We already have a per-creation selection of the collecting society responsible for collection on the "Areas of Exploitation" tab, the earnings side.

On the expenses side, when it comes to distribute the money among the creators, the contribution is important: here we see which collecting society is responsible for paying the author. It may depend on mutual agreements whether or not the money is transferred.

Authors may be members of several collecting societies. We should point out that we only need a primary collecting society here over which the author wishes to handle the revenue transfer.
